

MORE WOMEN WANTED FOR POLICE DUTIES

Ten Applicants Saturday Not Enough for Entire Town

BOROUGH-WIDE COVERAGE IS PROBLEM, STRANGE SAYS

Although there were ten women appearing in borough hall Saturday to apply for the eight posts as Pottstown's first policewomen, the police committee still needs more applicants.

This was reported by Earl R. Strange, police committee chairman, after his study of the applicants' addresses showed that too many were from some sections of Pottstown, while there were no applicants from others.

The committee is trying to find women to patrol each of the eight school corners who live close to these posts of duty. Otherwise, he said, problems of transportation and convenience could prevent the policewomen from being at their posts regularly.

There were more than enough applicants who live in the East End of the borough, Strange said. Still needed are applicants living close to Franklin school in the North End, and Washington and St. Aloysius parochial schools in the mid-borough, and one more applicant for corners near Lincoln school.

The ten applicants ranged in age from the 30s to the 60s. There was only one "Miss" in the group. Several of the others are mothers of young children.

Several of them indicated that a desire to protect school children was the main reason for their seeking the posts, not a desire to make money.

Woman Is Injured In Route 73 Wreck

A Route 73 accident late last night resulted in heavy damage to a 1952 sedan and slight injury to a woman passenger.

Mrs. Margaret E. McFarland, Wyomissing, suffered a bruise of the left hand. She was admitted to Pottstown hospital for observation.

The accident occurred at 11 o'clock on Route 73, just east of Hickory park, when the sedan driven by Mrs. McFarland's husband, Frank B. McFarland, ran out of control, struck a concrete abutment and rammed into a ditch.

Jeffersonville State Troopers Martin Higgins and John Flannery reported the entire front and rear ends of the car were damaged. McFarland was traveling west on 73 when the accident took place.

MUSIC TEACHERS HONOR MERCURY

The Pottstown Mercury received another high honor yesterday when it was named one of the five State newspapers that had done the most to advance and encourage music education in the public schools and colleges during 1952.

The Mercury was given an honorable mention, one of four such honors awarded by the Pennsylvania Music Educators association in Harrisburg.

The Harrisburg Patriot and News was given first honors in the State. Honorable mentions, besides The Mercury, were made to the Clearfield Progress, the New Wilmington Globe and the Somerset American.

The 1951 award went to the Philadelphia Inquirer, and in 1950 it was given to the Altoona Mirror.

THE MERCURY received distinction because it rated so highly among 78 State newspapers invited to compete. Newspapers were judged on their editorials that showed a genuine interest in advancing music education, in news stories and in pictures.

M. Clair Swope, Slippery Rock, president of the Pennsylvania Music Educators association, made the award announcements. He said:

"We are honored and helped by the unflinching attentions paid to us by the newspapers of Pennsylvania. It is only fitting and proper that, once a year, we should attempt to express our appreciation."

The association consists of 2160 Pennsylvania public school music educators.

Four Pottstonians are members. They are Lester F. C. Smith, director of instrumental music; and Edward F. O'Neill, director of vocal music in Pottstown Senior high; and William J. Schinstine, director of instrumental music; and Florence E. Wien, head of vocal music, in Pottstown Junior high.

Drivers Are Rough on Deer Too— Three Doe Killed on Busy Highways

Pottstown area automobiles were as rough on deer as hunters over the weekend.

Three deer, all does, crossed the path of speeding cars.

At 12:45 o'clock yesterday morning Sgt. Harold E. Hahn got a call at borough hall from James J. Hill, Twin Oaks, Delaware county. The motorist reported hitting an 80-pound doe a quarter mile north of Route 422 on Amityville pike, near Douglassville.

The dead deer was turned over to Joseph Leindecker, Reading, Berks county game protector.

RICHARD A. BLAIR, 78 Warren street, deputy game protector, reported a 70-pound doe killed by an auto on Rahn's hill, Sanatoga.

The deer, killed Friday night, was taken to the Montgomery county institution district home, near Royersford.

Saturday morning a 70-pound doe was struck on Route 663, near Perkiomen Heights.

Eight members of the Muddy Creek Rod and Gun club returned Saturday night after a week of blistering hikes in the bitter cold of Clinton county. Their reward: a 4-point, 140-pound buck.

Making the kill was Glenn R. Smith, Pottstown RD 1. Other hunters in the party were Robert Vivro, Montgomeryville; William Furman, Stowe; Nelson and Carl Weidenbaugh, and Albert Pfeiffer, Eaglesville, and Joseph

County Group Hears Report on Fires for Month of November

There were more grass fires in Montgomery county during November than there have been in any month for many years, George W. Lee, president of Montgomery county Firemen's association, reported yesterday.

At a meeting of the county fire fighters' association at Flourtown Fire company Saturday night it was reported there were 103 grass fires and 24 brush fires requiring a total of 37 hours and 2 minutes and 1097 men to combat.

"Grass fires are due to a lot of carelessness," Lee stated. "We've had more of them in November than we have had as far back as I can remember."

Damage to property by fires during the past month came to $86,145, it was reported. Insurance on the property endangered by the blazes amounted to $1,370,470 while actual property in danger of destruction was worth $4,127,825, the association reported.

IN ADDITION TO THE GRASS AND BRUSH FIRES there were 22 fires in dwellings, three in manufacturing plants, 13 in garages and 11 in barns. There was a total of 279 fires for the month.

To fight the fires in the county, firemen traveled 1023 miles. The services of 4783 fire fighters were required.

Capt. George Dandow, of the Lancaster Fire department, showed an exhibition of inflammable plastics and the methods of bringing such flames under control.

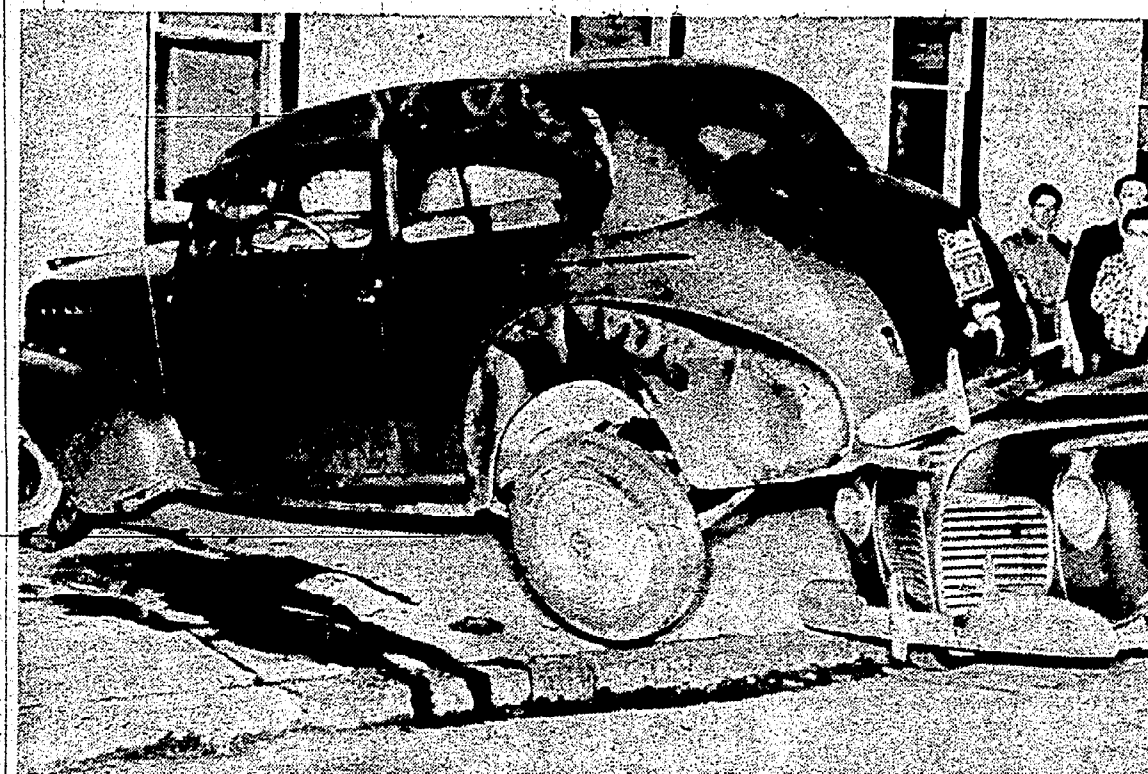

The next meeting of the association will be held at Glenside Fire company, Jan. 3.

Hubcap Robber Prefers Brand-New Merchandise

A hubcap thief with an inclination for new merchandise raided a 1952 car parked on Fourth street Saturday night or yesterday morning.

Charles Holloway, Upper Darby, told Sgt. Daniel J. Linton his new sedan was parked in front of 17 West Fourth street late Saturday. When he checked the car yesterday, the hubcaps were gone. He reported the theft to Sgt. Linton at 11:05 a. m.

Acrobatic Car's in Bad Shape

This is the car (left) in which Jean Harner, 20, of 501 Walnut street, the driver, was injured Saturday night when it was involved in an intersection collision with another automobile at the corner of Hanover and King streets. When the car was struck, it rolled over, hit a parking meter, snapping it off, then righted itself, coming to rest with its front end against a wall and its rear end atop the parked vehicle at the right. Miss Harner was admitted to Pottstown hospital for treatment.

3 Cars Damaged In Pair of Wrecks At Intersections Here

Three automobiles were damaged slightly as a result of two accidents in Pottstown Saturday. No one was injured.

The first accident happened at 2:25 p. m. at the intersection of Mt. Vernon and Queen streets and involved Alan M. Lieb, 206 High street, and Robert G. Smith, 1307 Queen street.

Lieb said he was traveling west on Queen street when the car driven by Smith pulled out of a parking place without any signal, striking Lieb's automobile on the right rear fender.

Lieb's car was reported to have its right rear fender ripped and dented while the left side of Smith's front bumper was bent.

HARRY N. KEPHART, 395 North Evans street, and William Malone, 807 Sheridan street, were involved in the second mishap which occurred at 11:40 p. m. at the (Continued on Last Page)

Old Man Sunshine Kicks Off the Quilt

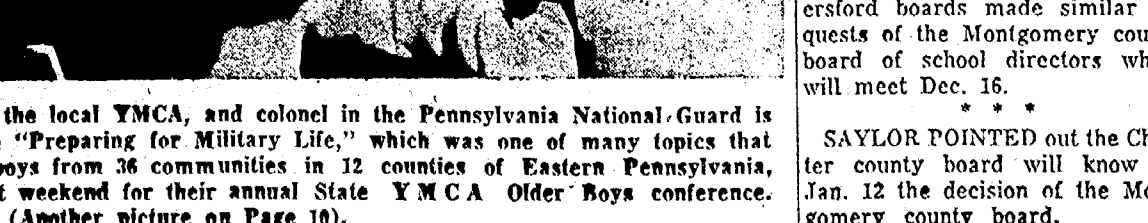

A week of snowy, rainy gloom ended Saturday with a brisk wind and the unfamiliar face of Old Sol.

It was much better driving Saturday than it was Saturday a week ago when a coating of snow, the season's first, began dressing the countryside and made traveling hazardous.

Yesterday was balmy and sunny and those who fear winter weather were making their days count.

Today will be partly cloudy and slightly warmer with the mercury jumping to a high of from 50 to 56. Tomorrow will be more of the same, with occasional rain likely.

MANAGER GETS GO-AHEAD ON WATER SURVEY

Gulden Told to Get Figures From Engineers on Cost of Project

PRESSURE RELIEF STILL NEEDS COUNCIL'S OKAY

Pottstown borough manager's office was given the go-ahead Saturday on getting an estimate on costs of an engineering survey aimed at boosting the low water pressure in such high points as Maple Gardens and Reynolds avenue.

Horace Gulden, borough manager, was authorized at a meeting of the water committee to submit plans for an up-to-date distributing system to Albright and Friel incorporated, Philadelphia engineering firm.

The engineers will be asked for an estimate of how much it will cost the borough for a detailed engineering survey with specific recommendations on what to do.

The engineering firm will be asked to have their estimate of the survey's cost back to borough council by Dec. 29, in time for council action this month.

IF COUNCIL approves the survey, Gulden said, the firm could probably complete it by February or March.

The survey would give council a picture of the various ways of handling the problem; on a long-range and short-range basis, as well as estimates of cost, Gulden reported.

The low-pressure problem at high points has been a chronic one, which becomes acute during summer droughts. The past Summer, lawn-sprinkling was banned to hold pressure above the danger point in the North End.

AT THE committee meeting, Chairman A. Emery Lord said he felt that low pressure in the North End, where scores of homes are affected, should be given priority over the problem on Reynolds avenue, west of State street, where only a half-dozen homes are affected.

Lord also said he felt that, (Continued on Page Seven)

Council Set to Study Request to Re-Zone 3 Acres in East End

Council will study a request tonight to change three acres in the East End from a residential to a commercial zone.

The planning and zoning commission, Horace Y. Seidel, chairman, will recommend the tract, bordered on the north by High street, the east by Firestone boulevard, the south by Sunset drive and Queen street and the west by Moser road, be converted for commercial building.

Seidel reported there are about three acres in the area which are residential. Other sections of the tract have been converted for commercial purposes.

More than six businesses are now located on the tract.

HE EXPLAINED "The three acres really aren't conducive to residential building."

Council is expected to set a hearing date, probably the January session, to review the request.

Tonight's meeting will be called to order in council chambers at 7:30 o'clock.

A car parked on the Owl's parking lot on King street was reported broken into last night to borough hall. A rifle, bullets and binoculars valued at $200 were missing, the owner said.

Objects which were missing from the car were a .22-caliber rifle, a box of bullets to fit the rifle and a pair of binoculars.

GENERAL JOINED BY 3 LEADERS AT WAKE ISLAND

Ike, His Cabinet Men To Discuss Policy Toward Orient

ABOARD USS HELENA EN ROUTE TO HAWAII, Monday, Dec. 8 (AP)—President-Elect Eisenhower arrived off Wake Island aboard the cruiser Helena today and was joined by John Foster Dulles and two other cabinet designates to begin a momentous series of talks on US foreign policy in the Orient. Dulles, who will be secretary of state, was brought aboard the Helena by helicopter. With him were George M. Humphrey, secretary of treasury designate, and Gov. Douglas McKay of Oregon, who will head the interior department.

Two other cabinet designates and top ranking military leaders were to split into two groups during the day for vital conferences which will deal primarily with military and political aspects of the Korean War.

Some of the party will fly to Pearl Harbor for simultaneous, co-ordinated conferences. Eisenhower and the rest of the group will confer aboard the Helena during the rest of its 3300-mile voyage from Guam to Pearl Harbor.

CHARLES E. WILSON, next defense secretary who accompanied Eisenhower on his historic three-day tour of Korea, planned to leave the Helena at Wake and fly to Pearl Harbor for conferences.

James Hagerty, Eisenhower's press secretary, said that both Eisenhower's sessions aboard the Helena and those between Wilson and high military leaders at Pearl Harbor will be co-ordinated and deal primarily with the Korean War.

The nature of the paralleling conferences indicated that both the political and military approach to the Korean situation would be synchronized.

The Helena is expected to reach Pearl Harbor Thursday, Hawaiian time.

Eisenhower appeared to be enjoying his voyage — and getting some long-delayed rest.

General Chase Back In Taipei After Talks

TAIPEH, Formosa, Monday, Dec. 8 (AP)—Maj. Gen. William C. Chase returned Sunday from private talks in Korea with President-Elect Dwight D. Eisenhower and then conferred with Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek, Nationalist sources said.

The head of the US Military Assistance Advisory group (MAAG) had no comment for reporters who met him at Taipei's Pine Hill airport.

While no public hint has been given here as to what Chase told Eisenhower in Seoul, the MAAG chieftain is known to have a high estimate of the potentialities of the forces now guarding this Nationalist stronghold.

Press reports from Seoul indicated he gave the next White House chief a favorable picture of the situation here.

There was no immediate indication how long Chase and Chiang conferred, or the nature of the talk.

Eisenhower's visit to Korea was the subject of a great deal of editorial speculation in Nationalist newspapers Sunday.

Flash Fire Sweeps Frame Barracks In South Dakota; Five Airmen Killed

RAPID CITY, S. D., Dec. 7 (AP)—A flash fire swept through a two-story frame barracks at the Rapid City Air Force base shortly before dawn today, killing five Air Force officers and injuring six others.

Thirty-three other officers sleeping in the barracks when the fire broke out escaped without injury. All of the dead and injured had been assigned to temporary duty with the 72nd Strategic Reconnaissance wing.

Maj. M. E. Barker, public information officer at the base, said the list of the dead would be released later tonight. Maj. Barker said the fact that the men had been assigned there for only temporary duty was delaying release of the victims' names while home bases were contacted for listings of next of kin. Most of the injured were identified only by their permanent stations.

Two of the injured were flown to Fitzsimmons Military hospital at Lowry field, Denver, for treatment. They were 2nd Lieut. Paul W. Rous of Lockbourne Air Force base, Ohio, in critical condition with burns, and 2nd Lieut. John Rycroft, Yonkers, N. Y., whose ankle was broken when he leaped from a second-story window.

Maj. Barker said Rycroft was apparently the only one forced to jump from the burning building.

The other four were less seriously injured. They were 1st Lieut. J. W. Hayes, March Air Force base, California; Capt. Emil Shtogren, Walker Air Force base, Roswell, Texas; Capt. Mack Underwood, Hunter Air Force base, Georgia; and 2nd Lieut. Richard Hartle, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Wage Stabilization Board Appears Headed for End Ahead of Schedule

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7 (AP)—The Wage Stabilization board, as stricken by an agency as the Federal Government has ever had, may be headed for a troubled end ahead of schedule.

That possibility was thrown into sharp relief by yesterday's mass resignation of the industry members of the tri-partite panel. They quit in protest against President Truman's action in overruling the board and allowing soft coal miners their full negotiated $1.90 a day wage increase.

Best Attended, Most Costly Inauguration In History Predicted

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7 (AP)—The ceremonies inaugurating Dwight D. Eisenhower as president of the United States probably will be the biggest, the best attended and the most costly in history.

At least, that's the opinion of a man who should know: Joseph C. McGarraghy, a local Republican leader who is chairman of the 1953 Inaugural committee.

McGarraghy, a lawyer, said the Truman inauguration four years ago cost around $700,000. Rising costs, he said, will boost this year's total to around a million dollars.

This does not include the actual inauguration at the capitol. The cost of building the mammoth platform there is paid by the taxpayers.

BUT THE other expenses must be raised from private sources. This is underwritten by local sponsors who hope to get their money back in sale of tickets to the various festivals.

"No public funds are used," McGarraghy said, "and I think it is important to the people of the United States to know just that."

McGarraghy's views were given in a radio interview with Gannett News service.

McGarraghy, who was born here, said:

"I earnestly believe that this will probably be the largest inaugural, the best attended inaugural, the greatest interest in an inaugural, that we have ever had in our history, at least in my time."

Here are some of the highlights listed by McGarraghy:

Sunday, Jan. 18—Special religious services, with Catholic, Protestant and Jewish leaders participating. Symphony concert at night.

Monday, Jan. 19—Special attention given to historic shrines around Washington. Big show at night. (Plans for this have not been worked out.)

Tuesday, Jan. 20—Inauguration at the capitol at noon. Then the parade, with every State represented by a marching unit and a float. All armed services also on hand. (McGarraghy says he hopes to have simple ceremony throughout, "without the circus atmosphere or the vaudeville character."

Only at Cincinnati did the President step from the train. At 6:40 a. m. (Pottstown time), while others on the nine-car special train were sleeping, he walked almost unnoticed into the Union station.

Truman and a secret service man strode up a ramp to the con course and headed for a newsstand to buy the Sunday papers. The young woman in charge didn't recognize her customer until the President, fishing for change, found only a dollar bill, which he had autographed.

With a smile he tendered the bill — which customarily would have been given to a child — and returned to the car which has become familiar to millions of whistle-stop crowds.

Probe Explosion Wreckage

Pittsburgh firemen probe wreckage of a three-story frame house after an explosion reduced the dwelling to a mass of rubble. Hours after the blast firemen recovered bodies of six children ranging in age from five to fourteen years old. The children were the five sons and a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Moulis who were blown clear of the house by the exploding natural gas.

House Group Asks More Protection for Home Purchasers

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7 (AP)—A House subcommittee today demanded more protection for home purchases against defective housing erected with Federal aid.

The group held that emergency needs are largely met and that the emphasis in the Government's housing program should shift from speed in output toward improvement of the product.

Reporting on a year's study of the operations of the Federal Housing administration (FHA) and the Veterans administration (VA), the subcommittee:

1. Recommended a nine-point program for correction of "serious deficiencies," with special emphasis on home warranties and bonding devices binding contractors to deliver according to plan.
2. Scored contractors who "hide behind dissolved corporations," and refuse to return cash deposits, or fail to make good on faulty or incomplete housing.
3. Voiced special concern over "ineffective pre-site engineering and land planning" creating sanitation and drainage hazards.

UN Efforts Stalled In Korean Deadlock

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Dec. 7 (AP)—An expected official "No" from the Communists on the UN Indian Korea truce plan and a wait-see attitude on the Eisenhower program for Korea stalled UN diplomatic efforts to break the military stalemate in Korea today.

The UN can take no further step in the Korean deadlock until the Chinese Communists in Peiping and the North Korean Reds in Pyongyang give their answer officially to the urgent appeal cabled them Friday night by UN assembly President Lester Pearson, Canadian foreign secretary.

Pearson set no deadline for the answer. UN officials received service messages from commercial cable companies today indicating the cables had reached their destination.

In advance of Pearson's appeal, the Chinese and Korean Reds echoed Soviet Russia's condemnation of any truce plan which does not require forcible repatriation of war prisoners. The echoes were sounded in Peiping and Pyongyang radio broadcasts and in a cable from China's Foreign Minister Chou En-Lai to the UN nearly the past week.

But the rules of diplomacy require that the "No" be official, after transmission of the UN resolution which had been sponsored by India and supported by all but the Soviet bloc.

NATO Experts Launch Campaign For Decision on Air Base Program

PARIS, Dec. 7 (AP)—NATO's military experts have launched a campaign to force an early decision by the North Atlantic Treaty council meets here Dec. 15, but European members are balking at setting fixed military goals and budgets for 1953 until after President-elect Dwight D. Eisenhower takes office.

They want to hold a second meeting, probably in April, when they know just how much the United States will contribute to Western European defense next year.

But NATO military experts say the decision must be made now so construction can begin in April. Air strips must be laid down during Spring and Summer. If they aren't built, the newly arriving planes go into mothballs.

NATO NATIONS already have built or are building 95 airfields across Europe at a cost of $739,200,000. The Supreme Allied command in Europe is aiming at a defense perimeter spotted with at least 165 air bases, including 35 in West Germany and the 35 new ones it hopes to build next season.

So far, the United States has paid nearly 43 percent of the cost of the first 95 bases — 41 in France, seven in Norway, seven in Denmark, 14 in Belgium, one in Luxembourg, 13 in The Netherlands and 12 in Italy.

Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther, SHAPE chief of staff, is directing the military's campaign for a decision this month on the new construction. Almost daily meetings are being held between civilian and military personnel on the council.

Warning Issued At Pearl Harbor

PEARL HARBOR, Dec. 7 (AP)—The Navy issued a solemn warning today against "our avowed enemy — creeping, insidious Communism, hard, mean and ruthless" — at ground-breaking ceremonies marking the 11th anniversary of the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor.

Rear Adm. William K. Phillips, chief of staff to Adm. Arthur W. Radford, the Navy's Pacific commander, said:

"The United States may be the last pinnacle of hope for the free world. If we fall the world falls with us."

A misty rain fell on 350 men and women gathered to honor the memory of more than 2000 Navy men who lost their lives in the surprise attack that plunged the United States into war.

Attack Anniversary Is Largely Ignored By People of Japan

TOKYO, Monday, Dec. 8 (AP)—Newly-independent Japan today largely ignored the 11th anniversary of its sneak air attack on Pearl Harbor—an attack the nation seems to regard as its gravest mistake.

None of Tokyo's big newspapers mentioned the event. US military forces, here in the status of security forces to defend Japan, discreetly avoided taking special notice of the anniversary.

The nation that challenged the United States with a disastrous blow — Dec. 7 Hawaii time — now appears firmly allied with her conqueror.

Hiroshima, the first atom-bombed city, commemorated the anniversary by dropping a wreath over the city from a small trainer plane.

JAPAN BECAME independent when the Allied occupation ended the past April 28.

In six and a half years of occupation, tremendous strides were made in cleaning up the rubble of the war that was launched when about 200 carrier-based Japanese planes plastered Pearl Harbor and other Hawaii installations.

Few war scars remain in Tokyo. Handsome new buildings are shooting up all over the city.

The 11 years have brought a vast change in the status of the emperor. Once regarded as divine, Hirohito and his family are now merely the heads of the state. They move much more freely among the people.

PRISONERS ASK FREEDOM, HOLD THREE GUARDS

Inmates at Santa Fe Barter With Lives Of Captives

SANTA FE, N. M., Dec. 7 (AP)—A small group of armed prisoners tonight bartered with officials of New Mexico State penitentiary for the lives of three prison guards held as hostages.

Eight or nine prisoners, known to be armed with at least one gun, seized the three guards about 5 p. m. MST, (7 p. m. Pottstown time) and offered to release them in return for freedom.

Almost four hours later, State police reported the rebels were still at liberty inside cell block No. 2, demanding they be given a car and allowed safe passage through the prison gates.

Details of how the guards were seized and the original complaint of the prisoners were not known. It was believed whatever weapons they had were taken from a gun tower.

NEGOTIATIONS WITH the men were being conducted through a window of the cell block by State Police Chief Joe Roach and prison Warden Morris Abrams.

"We hope to have the situation sweated out soon," Roach told reporters.

The prison was sealed off from the rest of Santa Fe early tonight by a tight cordon of police. Reporters and photographers were not permitted to enter the prison.

"This is for their own protection," said State Police Capt. Joe Black. He explained that anyone entering the prison would come within gunshot range of windows in the cell block held by the prisoners.

Black said all the other prisoners in the prison are in their cells and orderly. Normal population of the prison is 600 to 650 prisoners.

At least 50 State policemen and members of the Santa Fe county sheriff's posse were inside the prison. The National Guard was standing by.

Catholics to Mark Immaculate Conception

Feast Day Is One Of Six Holy Days On Church Calendar

The Feast of the Immaculate Conception will be observed at special masses in Pottstown's Catholic churches today.

In Roman Catholic churches it will be one of six days observed as a holy day of obligation during the year.

In Catholic churches of the Eastern or Greek Rite the day will be observed at the regular masses.

Masses will be held every hour on the hour today from 5 a. m. until 11 a. m. in St. Aloysius Catholic church, the Rev. William M. Begley, rector, announced.

One mass will be held in the lower church at 9 a. m. to accommodate the crowds, he added.

THE RECTOR explained that it is necessary to hold the mass in the lower church to insure every worshiper a seat.

The 9 a. m. services will be the High Mass. It will be sung by the children's choir.

Parochial schools will be closed today in recognition of the holy day, Father Begley said.

Today also is the last day of the Solemn Novena at St. Aloysius which began on Advent Sunday. Solemn benediction of the Blessed Sacrament will close the novena tonight at 7:30 o'clock.

New members of the Sodality of the Blessed Virgin Mary will be received at the 7:30 devotions in the upper church. The Rev. Michael Lee Walsh, assistant rector, has been in charge of the novena.

THE REV. JAMES G. SHERMAN, Villanova priest who has been at St. Aloysius church for the eight days of special devotions, will make his farewell appearance at the evening devotional service.

Attendance at the 5:30 p. m. and 7:30 p. m. services has averaged between 400 and 500 persons each night, Father Begley said last night.

At Holy Trinity Catholic church three masses will be held this morning—at 5 a. m., 7:30 a. m. and 9 a. m. A benediction will follow the 9 o'clock service.

The Rev. Eugene Lamshe, Philadelphia, a guest at Holy Trinity yesterday and today, will take part in the services.

A SOLEMN SODALITY RECEPTION was held by Holy Trinity members yesterday, which was attended by the Rev. Stephen J. Vleck, rector, and the Rev. Lamshe, who was guest of honor.

Six new members were received at the gathering, including Mrs. Anna May Sova, Patricia Sarisky, Barbara Ruyak, Patricia Karpinski, Pauline Ondick and Janet Dunlap.

Masses will be held at 5 a. m., 7:30 a. m. and 9 a. m. at St. Peter's Catholic church today, the Rev. John Naja, rector, said last night.

THE REV. ARNOLD VANDENBERG, Philadelphia, will celebrate mass today at 5:30 a. m., 8 a. m. and 9 a. m. in St. Gabriel's Catholic church, Stowe. Father Vandenberg will stay over from his regular visit yesterday, to celebrate today's masses.

Adult League Holds Pocket Bible Meeting At Emmanuel Church

Urging a back-to-the-Bible movement, the Emmanuel Lutheran Adult league held a pocket testament meeting last night in the church.

Program leader Geraldine M. Stricker blamed the modern emphasis on material gain for many of the world's evils. "God has tried to tell us," she pointed out, "the only way to overcome the world's perplexities is to keep close to Him by regularly reading and studying the Scriptures."

His readings in the Bible, Miss Stricker said, led Martin Luther to lead the Protestant Reformation.

"HE OPENED the Book and the seed of the Reformation was lodged in his heart," she asserted, adding the open Bible held by the Worms statue of Luther should prod all men to keep the Bible an open and oft-read book.

Mrs. Clare S. Burdan, Adult league president, told the meeting the purpose of the Lutheran Pocket Testament league of America is to make the Bible a part of every Christian's life.

Members, she explained, carry a

Protestant Group Plans Home Mission Program

DENVER, Dec. 7 (AP)—Protestants today were reported tackling the "greatest home missions task in the history of American churches."

Churches of Christ in the USA. The council, the nation's biggest church organization, represents 29 denominations with 33 million members, or more than two-thirds of its division of home missions said that because of increases and shifts in American population, "more people now live in unchurched communities than at any time in the history of the past."

GIs to Lose Allowance Unless Congress Acts

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7 (AP)—Enlisted men and non-commissioned officers in the armed forces will lose part or all of the special "quarters allowance" for their dependents on April 30 unless Congress extends it before then.

Enlisted men and non-coms alike now draw, in addition to their regular pay, $51.30 a month for one dependent, $77.10 for two dependents and $96.90 a month for more than two.

The Pentagon is reported to be preparing an urgent request that Congress try to beat the expiration deadline and continue the allowances to avert hardships.

Let us hear the conclusion of the whole matter: Fear God, and keep his commandments; for this is the whole duty of men. — Ecclesiastes 12:13.

A Real Home Town

INTELLIGENT development and administration of a low-rent housing program slowly is making Pottstown a community without slums.

Without Pottstown's public housing, industry could not have expanded, or even retained its manpower in a critical period, nor would there have been shelter for the relocation of families displaced.

The Montgomery County Housing authority made a valuable contribution to Pottstown when it erected 117 units years ago.
They have proved invaluable.

Now the authority is putting up 100 more units adjacent to Penn Village. This will make Penn Village one of the finest low-cost housing developments in the State.

In addition, Pottstown has 36 State-aided units in the Linden apartments on North Hanover street. This development, subsidized in part by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, has played an important role in relieving the housing shortage here.

Returning war veterans were given priority in some of the homes, but since that time many veterans' families have since moved out to purchased their own homes.
Here again Federal aids in the form of guaranteed mortgages, provided through the Federal Housing Administration and Veterans Administration, helped solve a most difficult community housing problem.

Pottstown has been fortunate in obtaining these aided units, but it still has a great many sub-standard homes. Some sections of Pottstown still are without sewer service, without connections to the municipally-owned water mains.

Pottstown's housing needs have been taken care of in a great measure by private contractors and builders. Throughout the community street after street of homes is rising. In all sections of the borough new developments are going up.

It's a great tribute to the vision of Pottstown's builders. It's a tribute to their faith in the community. Pottstown's future is bright, and there should be continued demand for housing... always better housing.

Pottstown's industries are moving forward, are expanding. Pottstown's builders should be encouraged in every way to continue their fine work and make this community one without sub-standard homes.

Posies for Prisoners

FROM London comes one of those bright, cheery little items just bubbling over with good will but which, on second examination, seems fated to miss its mark by at least a mile. The item is the announcement by Miss Jean Flower — mark the name — as secretary of the National Gardeners' Guild that 12,000 tulip and daffodil bulbs have been sent to British jails to bloom in time to "cheer them up for the coronation."

It is our notion, however, that the inmates of the jails would be happier if the coronation were marked by the custom of more barbarous days, the days in which prisoners — or at least a selected batch of them — were turned loose whenever a monarch celebrated a coronation or decreed big openings for some other big event. But such open-handedness does not jibe with the modern precepts of law and justice. The prisoners will have to wait for the parole board rather than for the coronation.

Still, a batch of tulips or daffodils seen through prison bars should make a pretty picture — that is, if it is seen from the outside.

Tosses in His Wand

THE resignation of Tighe E. Wood as federal price stabilizer seems to be a final admission that it is impossible to pump up any popular enthusiasm for this form of stage magic. Mr. Wood has been waving his wand furiously for some time, but the audience was unimpressed.

One reason the public refused to take controls seriously is provided by the spectacle of the coal wage case. The Wage Board vetoed 40 cents of a raise of $1.90 in the daily wages of miners, and has been trying hard ever since to find some way of back-tracking without loss of face.

One suggestion of Roger Putnam, the stabilization director, was that the disputed 40 cents be added to vacation allowances instead of wages. That kind of "stabilization" explains why people refused longer to believe that Mr. Wood would pull anything out of his hat except a turkey.

Blood Donor Shocked by Lack of Response

More Blood Needed
To the Editor: Dec. 2, 1952, was just one of the times when the Red Cross bloodmobile was in Pottstown.

This morning I read that only 121
pints were donated.

This is a disgrace for a place like Pottstown. A lot of people in this town must be pretty proud of themselves.

Whether they realize it or not, a soldier or some other serviceman overseas
may die for lack of blood.

What would they think if someone close to them, maybe their own son or husband, would die?

I gave my pint and put in eight hours
work afterwards, and I'm alive.

Maybe somewhere in the world another person will be able to see another day, because I took time to give just a little blood, which means so much to them.

Are we going to let our servicemen down? I for one am not.

Let's all join in the drive to bring our servicemen home. I don't mean only the ones from Pottstown, but the ones
from all over the United States.

When the Red Cross bloodmobile comes to Pottstown again, let's all join the parade, and show our boys that we are behind them.

Don't Bluff

To the Editor: I saw one of the speed trap signs recently erected by the borough on East High street yesterday.

The sign is set back off the road and although it is easily visible I think it should be closer to the edge of the highway.

I think the signs should be given an unobstructed view.

Another thing, since the traps will not be operated all through the night when serious accidents usually occur, I believe the traps will not be serving the community the way they should.

One thing which might cause motorists to be more careful would be driving through the borough while it is illuminated the signs so that drivers will automatically slow down.

The fact that there are no police on duty at the traps will not be known by most of the motorists passing through and in that manner the signs may be of some use to the community during deadly hours.

However, this bluff should be only temporary. Some provision must be made by the borough to keep the traps in operation all through the night even if it means sacrificing their operation
through the daylight hours.

Others Need Help

To the Editor: In regard to non-professional workers in the Pottstown school district:

I am wholeheartedly in accord with the teacher's program to gain salary increases. However, much to my surprise and chagrin, their servants, clerical, maintenance, and janitorial workers are overlooked.

Many unskilled workers are not professional. The cost of living is on the same level.

A servant earning $2500 or $5000
must pay the same for a loaf of bread, pound of meat, an hour's entertainment,
hospitalization or a home.

Christmas Chatter
MISS MIDNIGHT'S NOTEBOOK—I am not much of a crusader, as writers for the public prints go, but I would like to appoint myself chairman of an intensive campaign to return Christmas to Dec. 25th.

The first five Christmas cards arrived at our house
before Thanksgiving
turkey had gone to the guillotine. Now
there is a stack of them on the hall
table, reminding us that Christmas is starting earlier and earlier every year,
and if we don't do something about it quickly the loveliest holiday of the year will wind up being celebrated somewhere in the middle of July when everybody is away at the seashore.

Christmas shopping used to start the day after Thanksgiving and continue in a hectic but pleasant crescendo until the last possible minute Christmas Eve.
Christmas cards used to arrive a few days before Christmas. Santa Claus cut-outs and tinsel and Christmas tree ornaments used to appear in the windows of neighborhood toy stores and delicatessens
a couple of weeks before Christmas, so there was a sudden exciting burst of red and green and glitter all over the city.

Now Christmas sneaks into town with such a slow lunge that we are in danger of becoming bored to death, at least with the physical trappings of the day, if something drastic isn't done to keep it in its proper place on the calendar. As far back as last September, when New York was sweltering in a heat wave, my husband phoned the drug store for his favorite brand of shaving cream and it was delivered in a "gift" package decorated with Santa Clauses.

IT WAS BAD last year, it's worse
this year. A girl I know is sitting at home reading Mickey Spillane novels when she should be tearing around the department stores fingering merchandise, because she bought all her Christmas presents in Paris last August. A married pair of my acquaintance do all their Christmas shopping in California in July. This is an efficient way of doing things, no doubt, but it certainly takes the zip
and bustle out of December.

And if the post office has it merry little way, the mail will thin, rather than thicken, as the hoofbeats of Donner and Blitzen are heard in the distance. Preying upon the soft hearts of easily-touched newspaper editors, the postmasters issue frantic pleas, stern warnings and grim reminders about Mailing Early, and the newspapers never fail to publish them without humorous comment.

Each year, of course, the mythical
deadline for mailing your Christmas cards is moved up a few notches, and I have no doubt that by 1956 any citizen caught slipping a few greetings into the postbox after Labor Day will have his wrist slapped by the mailman.

ONLY YESTERDAY an executive of the department whose minions are not stayed by snow or sleet or gloom of night (but who are publicly stayed by a couple of million-extra-envelopes) avered that it was not a moment too soon to mail all cards, and his statement was duly printed in the papers to scare the laggards.

This is hokey, of course—understandable, and inspired by the finest motives, but hokey.

Analyze it if you will.

The Worry Clinic

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

ALAN Q., 37, has been the pastor of a tiny church in Pennsylvania.

"Dr. Crane, he has been forced to resign," one of his loyal parishioners informed me.

"And I think it is unfair. Our wealthy membership feels it is a disgrace because Rev. Alan has nine children!"

"And the wealthy women in our church have snubbed his wife repeatedly because they seem to feel she is a 'low brow' for ever having had so many children."

"I have actually heard them talk against her in our women's meetings.
And they say a clergyman cannot afford to rear 9 children on a salary of $7500 per year."

"Besides, they argue that a clergyman's children grow up to be failures in life and no-goods. That isn't true, is it, Dr. Crane?"

No sir, it definitely is NOT true.
Clergymen's children have set a remarkable record, as WHO'S WHO so well attests.

True enough, they usually don't have much money in their childhood, but that is probably an asset instead of a liability, for poverty is a dandy goad to high attainment.

AND THE MEMBERS of the congregation alternately "spoil" the clergyman's children with too much attention;
then expect them to be model youngsters in all respects.

Sometimes the children get fed up with always having to act like little angels so they relish kicking over the traces. But by and large, the clergyman's kids have an educational and spiritual environment that is unsurpassed.

Lila Wallace co-publisher of Reader's Digest, was a preacher's kid.

So are Gardner and John Cowles, famous newspaper and magazine publishers.

AS FOR THE thousands of other great leaders in business and science who grew up in parsonages, space will not permit an adequate listing.

True, the parishioners expect a preachers' kids to be dressed fairly well but Rev. Alan can do a fair job on $7500 per year salary.

The average American family nowadays includes 2 children. And many snooty women, who haven't even reared an average of two, will affect revulsion
at mothers of five or more children.
Probably sour grapes, in part.

TOLL ROADS—Only one mile of the 28 miles of turnpike owned by the Perkines and Reading Turnpike company has a toll charge. The toll gate is located at Bramcole and is in charge of George E. Levengood.

TOO MANY BILLS?—The Cedarville Literary society decided last night that free rural delivery is of no benefit to the country folks.

COAL SCARCIE—As a result of the recent coal strike the black diamonds are very scarce in this section. With the temperature at 12 degree above zero this morning the coal dealers were deluged with orders. Most of the coal yards only have small supplies of the coal and large stove coal size. The price has risen to $6.50 and $10 per ton which is record-breaking in this section.

HUNTER SCARED—John M. Schearer, proprietor of the Yellow House hotel, returned home suddenly from a deer
hunting trip to Woodward, Center county.
Schearer was scared out of the deer country by wild cats which invaded the area of his cabin.

XMAS DINNER—The American Independent Grocers association announces a good Christmas dinner for five persons will cost an average of $8.60 this year. The dinner menu will include roast turkey, filling, mashed potatoes,
giblet gravy, finger rolls, apples, celery, nut salad, corn, peas, coleslaw, lima beans, cranberry jelly, pickles, fruits, pumpkin and mince pies and coffee.

QUOT CLUB—The 1942 Pottstown
Quot club purchased war bonds totalling $2000. Following officers were elected:
Gordon Harp, president; Carl Bertollet, vice president; John Himmelsberger,
financial secretary; Charles Gerth, recording secretary; Lester Christman,
treasurer, and Edgar Freese, trustee.

SKATING—Three-inch ice on the Pruss Hill dam of C. E. Liss has attracted many skaters to that spot. Irvin
L. Keener, Pottstown recreation director, says the tennis courts at Kiwanis park on North Manatown street will not be flooded for skating as it would cause damage to the court walls.

THE WHOLE WORLD'S WAITING ALL AROUND THE TOWN

Pottstown of Old...

The Boys Cut Up...

★ GOOD OLD DAYS — Freddy the Rover, was a bum. Some Pottstonians dignified him with the high-sounding appellation of "illegit" when he periodically appeared in town, cagging a meal here, scurrying a few cents there. But he was just a hobo, one of the most notorious. He must have had an artistic streak.
He wore his hair in bangs. Down below his ears, so everybody in Pottstown knew him in awe. Not fearful were the loungeers at High and Hanover, those practical jokers who always were perpetrating tricks. They caught Freddy the Rover asleep in a wheelbarrow along the wall of the Security Trust company one Fourth of July. Abe Stone (that wasn't his right name) got a stick of dynamite, set it off under the barrow...

FREDDY the Rover was blown high into the air. Fortunately he wasn't hurt. But he ran in a panic down to the Good Will Fire company, where the custodian was watering
the sidewalk. This inconsiderate soul played the tirehorse on the Rover to cool him down. But Freddy kept right on going until he grabbed a freight car and rode out of town.
That was a busy Fourth of July for Pottstown's police. The explosion under Freddy set off a chain of runaways among horses that were tied to High street hitching posts.
People were aroused, too, and Abe Stone, perpetrator of the deed, was arrested. Oldtimers say the late William Mills, proprietor of Ellis Mills, saw Freddy the Rover selling umbrellas on a New York street corner years later. Inquired the Rover:
"Is that Abe Stone still in Pottstown?" Assured he was, Freddy said he'd never return!

★ THE TOWN'S DANDY who was as well known for the fine cut of his clothes
as for his lack of industry in obtaining a job, courted the daughter of a well-to-do Pottstonian. Father said he'd skin him alive if he ever caught him in his house. The Dandy vowed he'd never get caught there, for he knew the oldest's temper. That resolution returned in disaster. For Father returned home early one night from a lodge meeting. The Dandy ran through the house, across a back porch, scaled a fence, and plopped spread-eagle in several inches of gooey mortar. Bricklayers had prepared their mortar in a flat vat for work on a house
next door next day!

LAT DETWILER, the 76-year-old
dean of Pottstown taproom owners, may recall a ruse he used on a prominent localite to collect $6 he won in a pool game. Detwiler's opponent in an emporium owned by a former Pottstown burgess, was a resident who wore a toupee. Detwiler beat him one game, consented to another for double or nothing! The sharpshooting Detwiler was well on to victory when his opponent announced he wasn't paying! Lat reached across the table, grabbed the guy's wig and stuck it into his pocket. The toupee remained there until the six bucks were scraped up...

★ OLDSTERS still smile at some of the jokes they played on tipplers. Dowdy Small (that wasn't his name, either) ran what he called a cigar store, but actually a blind for a eard game. He was unlucky "at cards, and almost nightly
the game would put him out of business, but then take up a collection and buy him a couple boxes of cigars to keep the store open. Dowdy went on sprees. During one of his binges, the cardsters walked to Bill Shenton's gravestones cutting yard, picked out a headstone and place it in front of Dowdy's store. They memorialized him in crayon on the stone. Dowdy didn't like the implication... And neither did that tailor who came back from a speer to find a crepe on his High street shop door. He was impressed, though with reports that many Pottstonians grieved his untimely passing!

Hollywood

By EDITH GWYNN

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 6—Any minute you'll read that all the people
now supposedly running R.K.O., plus those rumored as replacements in the new set-up that "bought" it, will be very much in the background from now on—until such a time as Howard Hughes decides to RE-sell the studio.

Hughes will retain control. Ned De-pnet, one of the most respected
men in the movie
business, will run
the whole company as its nominal head, and as Chairman of the Board. T. W. A.'s Noah Dietrich is likeliest to become R.K.O.'s prexy.

SCARCE BELIEVE the scuttub that Lucille Ball and Desi Arnaz will tepee in Puerto Rico next year (Just like Ed Gardner) and film their video series there. Even though it would mean they could keep some of the millions already on paper for them... Louise Brooks, once a movie star, and Jimmy Dunn (not the actor) do an altar march pronto. She was once wed to director Eddie Sutherland... F. Sinatra is getting ten thousand per week for his current stint at N.Y.'s French Casino. And a percentage. After a quick trip back here, he hies to Europe for Christmas with Ava Garner... It will be Rita Gam, not Ava in "Saadia" with Cornel Wilde and Mel Ferrer. All three journey to Morocco after the first of the year to film it.
Meantime, Ferrer plans stage-touring in "Strike a Match" with Pat O'Brien. Eva Gabor, Tom Brown and Dick Egan...
Told that Ty Power is taking
"John Brown's Body" across the country. What does he want with that old thing?

PEGGY LEE will play a cocker spaniel (a blond one—natch!) in Walt Disney's "The Lady and the Tramp." After she does some TV guest spots with Perry Como and Jackie Gleason... Bill Treadwell, now in the divorce mill, may go into harness again with Selene Walters... Keith Andes, who as noted here, got a six-month leave of absence from RKO to star in "Maggie," the Bway musical of
"What Every Woman Knows." He had bags poked to leave yesterday. But got a wire saying "Hold everything." Because there's such a hassle going on about who is to be the top femme. It's a tussle between Ella Logan and a bubble actress, Glynis Johns. One of the gals is no singer; the other isn't too popular with Andes or the producers. Sooon—here's a hot bet:
That Keith, who still has his "studio leave," will snag second-to-star-spot in "The Caine Mutiny."

YOUR HEALTH

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

JUST ABOUT everyone has his own favorite "wart cure." There is probably no disease with more suspected cures and household remedies, most of which don't work. Probably few people could tell you that most warts are caused by a virus infection.

The cure of the common wart is sometimes very easy, and sometimes highly difficult. Many times these growths disappear by themselves. In other cases, all types of treatment fail to help.

Warts can be transmitted from one person to another, though it is unknown why some people contract them from others and some do not.

Any part of the skin and lips can produce a wart, the most frequent spot being on the hand. The sole of the foot and the face are other very common locations. Warts can be painful on the sole of the foot, for they are easily irritated.

Some doctors believe that warts are due to some psychological disturbance and claim they can be removed by giving the person psychological treatment.

Cautious as silver nitrate and cauteries are usually used to remove warts. However, these methods may leave scars and can be painful.

Recently it has been found that the use of frozen carbon dioxide gas—dry ice—is very effective in removing warts fairly permanently. This is a very painless method and produces very little scar.

A not too common method is the use of a small surgical spoon. Usually the physician freezes the wart with a local anesthetic, such as ethyl chloride. He then quickly spoons out the wart with this special instrument. Usually there is some bleeding which is quickly checked.

This home of Mr. and Mrs. William Levin on the southeast corner of Hanover and Diamond streets has the snug look of a bungalow but almost as much space as a regular two-story house. When it was built ten years ago by William F. Lamb Sr., of 226 Prospect street, they had the second floor finished into two bedrooms and a bath, installing that ventilator on the roof for the bath. Downstairs are a living room, with redbrick fireplace, in the wing immediately left of the front door. There's a small foyer behind the door. Also downstairs are a kitchen, two big bedrooms and tile bath. The garage is under the rear of the house. The shrubbery was planted by them. Levin is owner of Levin's incorporated, jewelry and clothing store.

Pottstown's Finest

Hope for the future lies in Pottstown's schools. The Mercury is publishing pictures of Pottstown's finest, the children in our schools. Every day a new room of school children will be shown here. Save the series, and enjoy them anew in future years.

If they're not giving you a big enough smile, you'll have to forgive these afternoon Kindergartners at the Franklin school. After all, they've got a right to be a little bashful posing for their first class picture. Seen with teacher, Mrs. Mary Schaeffer, left to right in the first row are Barry Keller, Thomas Parvanski, Betsy Alting, Deborah Miller, Caroline Smith, William Requet, Harold Rosen-

Teams Awaiting Turn To Climb Mt. Everest

NEW DELHI, India, Dec. 7 (AP)—Failure of the Swiss to reach the top of Everest in the 10th recorded attempt to climb the world's highest peak is good news for teams of several other nationalities waiting their turn.

First in line to tackle the unconquered, more-than-29,000-foot peak is a British group whose experts participated in eight of 10 unsuccessful attempts on Everest. This team has the approval of the Nepalese Government to try it from the south wall in 1953.

Eric Shipton, who led the British reconnaissance team up Everest's slopes the past year, will not accompany the group.

German Paper Strike Appears to Be Cracking

FRANKFURT, Germany, Dec. 7 (AP)—West Germany was without Sunday newspapers today as a result of a nationwide printers' strike but the walkout appeared to be cracking in some parts of the country.

In various cities, workers agreed to return to their jobs after publishers offered them higher wages. In other places and in the provincial areas, editors and members of the clerical staff prepared two-page "emergency editions" to be distributed tomorrow.

An estimated two-thirds of West Germany's 600 newspapers appeared shut down.

Trucker's $1508 Plummets From Pier And He Can't Swim

ST. SIMONS, ISLAND, Ga., Dec. 7 (AP)—W. E. Conner's billfold containing $1508 dropped into the Atlantic ocean from a pier today and floated away. All efforts to recover it failed.

Tonight Conner, 47, a Roanoke, Va., produce trucker, spent the night on the beach with his tearful wife and 10-year-old son hoping and praying the billfold might wash up on the tide.

Conner, left with 14 cents, cannot swim. When the billfold slipped out of a shirt pocket, he kept his eye on it while his son ran for a lifeguard.

But the bathing season was over and an outgoing tide carried the money a considerable distance before swimmers, were found to chase it. One got within 20 feet of the billfold, suffered cramps and had to return.

The Coast Guard hurried over to the scene, but the billfold had disappeared.

The billfold contained mostly $100 bills, Conner said, adding the finder could take out whatever he would as a reward.

US Aide Returns To Clear Policy Stand

NEW YORK, Dec. 7 (AP)—Edwin A. Locke Jr., roving US ambassador in the Middle East, returned home today to explain to the State department his public criticism of United States economic policy.

"I don't know what the shouting's all about," he told newsmen as he arrived by plane from Beirut, Lebanon.

"As far as I know, there has been no difference of opinion between me and the State department. I have not been recalled. I received a cablegram a week ago from Undersecretary David Bruce, suggesting that it'd be a good idea for me to return to discuss area problems and I replied that I would be delighted."

The State department asked Locke to come home for "consultation" after he proposed in a Beirut speech that Congress authorize a three-year program of loans and grants to develop the Middle East. He cited what he called "failures" of the Point-Four program of technical assistance there.

Snyder's article paid particular attention to institutions in western Pennsylvania, of which it said a survey had been made. It declared:

"Since the mental health program was started under the administration of Gov. James H. Duff, and following disclosures of deplorable conditions at Byberry hospital, Philadelphia, 160 million dollars has been spent or allocated for new hospitals, and improvements."

"Today, with this program practically completed, the 21 institutions, with a rated capacity of 33,348 are feeding, sleeping and treating 46,998 men, women and children."

"The overcrowding is hazardous, superintendents at Mayview, Woodville, Polk and Warren readily admit. Dr. Joseph A. Cammarata, Dixmont superintendent, says that 100-year-old place is 'comfortably' crowded."

YMCA Conference Ends Successfully

discuss the many problems facing youth today.

OF THESE, it was reported that the most popular were "Boy and Girl Relationship," conducted by R. Carl Alford, program executive of the Philadelphia YMCA; "Entering College," conducted by Edward T. Hall, headmaster of The Hill school, and "Preparing for Military Life," conducted by James F. Baird, secretary of the local YMCA.

Among other subjects discussed were "Moral Standards," by the Rev. Maurice Hoover, pastor of the Searles Memorial Methodist church; "Race Relationships," by Jacob Longacre, student at the Gettysburg seminary and former religious worker in Harlem, N. Y.; "Also 'Getting Along at School,'" by William Mowrer, principal of Pottstown Junior High school; "Personality Development," by Charles F. Fegley, youth director of the local YMCA; "Getting a Job," by Edith Head, of the Pennsylvania State Employment service, and "Holding a Job," by C. Roy Bush, personnel manager of the Doehler-Jarvis corporation.

The young assembly was told of conditions facing youth of their own age in Germany by Hans Lindner, general secretary of the YMCA in Muenster, Germany, who was principal speaker at the luncheon which followed the discussion periods.

He spoke of the overcrowded conditions, the housing shortages and lack of facilities and how the YMCAs there are helping the youths, many of them orphaned by the war, to find places to stay and give them "hope and direction to life."

LINDNER, WHO is visiting this country on a grant from the Ford Foundation to study American youth and community life, spoke under the auspices of the international committee of the YMCA.

The recreation aspect of the conference started for the boys at 2:30 p. m., when 60 went on a conducted tour of The Hill school while the balance, according to Charles F. Fegley, youth director of the local YMCA, "taxed the physical facilities at the 'Y' by crowding the swimming pools, basketball floor and lounges."

At 6 p. m. the boys were grouped again in the Emmanuel Lutheran church Sunday school room for the conference banquet. This time there were no speakers and carrying through the recreational theme, demonstrations in magic by William Whiteknight, of Allentown, followed the meal.

From here it was only a short walk to the YMCA, where the boys attended a dance under the direction of Robert A. Reis, borough recreation director, which concluded conference activities for the day.

Yesterday morning found the boys attending practically all the churches in the area, accompanied by their hosts in whose homes they were guests for the weekend.

DINNER WITH the local families preceded the closing session of the conference which began at 2:30 p. m. yesterday. It was reported that many of the boys were overheard comparing with pride the meals they were fed by respective hosts.

Dr. Fisher made his third and final address at this last phase of the conference, the theme of which was "Christ's Challenge to Be Christian."

To acquire this Christian attitude, Dr. Fisher said, "First you must learn to use properly the precious gift of memory — remembering the things you should remember and forgetting the things you should forget."

He told the boys that they must forget "the past successes over which we tend to boast and the past failures over which we tend to brood."

"Secondly," he said, "we must cultivate deliberately the positive conviction that tomorrow under God can be better than yesterday ever was. And lastly, we must be single-minded in our response to God."

THE ADDRESS was followed by a "Decision Period," at which time the assembly of youths were asked to think and write down for themselves the conclusions they had drawn as a result of the conference.

The three-day event was closed formally with a Friendship circle, when all boys joined hands to form a huge circle within the church sanctuary, the singing of the Lord's Prayer by Richard Stafford, of the Downingtown Industrial school, and a benediction by Dr. Fisher.

H. Bert Shaw, president of the borough school board and general chairman of the conference, offered his thanks last night to the community for the welcome that was extended the visiting youths.

Zionist Organization Hears Description of Israel's 'Tent City'

Pottstown's Zionist organization heard a description of "Tent City" at its meeting last night.

"Tent City" is a temporary community near Tel Aviv, Israel, where Jewish refugees from eastern Europe live while awaiting more permanent quarters, a visiting speaker told the Zionists.

Uriah Tchack, the speaker, is a native of Israel. He lived there 14 years before coming to the United States 20 years ago. He now lives in Newark, N. J., where he is a director of the Zionist organization for that district.

Dr. Emil Schorsch, rabbi of Mercy and Truth synagog, illustrated Tchack's talk by showing motion pictures of scenes in Israel.

JACOB A. RADEN, president, was in charge of last night's 8:30 o'clock meeting in the Jewish community center. He was assisted by Alvin Weiss and Sidney Weiss. Mrs. Stanley Prince was in charge of the refreshments which followed the meeting.

The next regular monthly meeting of the organization will be a musical, President Raden announced.

Severe Storm Halts Trains, Stalls Cars

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 7 (AP) — The most severe storm in years halted passenger trains between here and Oregon today and stalled hundreds of automobiles.

A report that a large plane crashed in a blizzard near Lake Tahoe, on the California-Nevada border, was being investigated.

Heavy snow blocked rail lines and highways, and gales blew down power lines and left some areas in darkness last night.

Torrential rains partially melted the heavy snowfall, bringing the danger of floods from swollen streams in northwestern California. The Weather bureau said the rain would decrease by Monday.

WATER SURVEY —

whatever the long-range plan developed, an effort should be made to give the North End at least temporary relief as soon as possible.

The final solution will be some combination of extra pumping power and extra tanks, the borough manager said.

HE SAID there are two basic reasons why high points in Pottstown now have poor pressure during peak hours:

1. These high points are above the top level of the borough reservoirs, making it impossible to use gravity to carry water to them.

2. The water mains laid years ago, for the North End are too small to handle the present peak load efficiently. He explained that there is much more friction loss in a small pipe through which water is moving at high speed than there is in a big pipe where the water moves more slowly.

Also attending the morning session in borough hall were W. Mark Henricks and Wilbert O'Dell, committee members, and Dow I. Sears, assistant to the borough manager; Frank J. Keegan, assistant borough manager, and Ralph H. Thomas, superintendent of the borough water department.

TIRE MYSTERY —

possibility that some of the boys returning to their dormitories had set the tire rolling.

He said that the investigation would be continued and that the motorist would be paid damages by the school.

Israel to Reject Charges by Czechs

JERUSALEM, Dec. 7 (AP) — The Israeli Government will reject as completely false the charges on which Czechoslovakia based her demand for the recall of Israel's minister to Prague, A. Leon Kobov.

This was decided today at a cabinet meeting devoted to Foreign Minister Moshe Sharett's report about the bitter attacks on Israel and Zionism which flared at the trials of former Czech Communist boss Rudolf Slansky and 13 other top Communists who were hanged or jailed for life the past week.

Czechoslovakia said yesterday that Dr. Kubovy, who was mentioned in the trials, was "persona non grata" (officially unacceptable) and demanded his recall. A note handed the Israeli delegation in Prague charged that "interference into Czechoslovak domestic affairs has grown more frequent and more indecent" under Kubovy.

If the Montco board approved the programs 3-district jointure, members of the other seven districts in the original plan will meet at the Collegeville-Trappe school.

IF THE BOARD rejects the plan then, Joel B. Francis, president of the Collegeville-Trappe joint board, will call a meeting of the nine districts.

HORSE-POWERED SLEIGH CARRIES SANTA ON ROUTE

Reindeer Remain at Pole Prepared for Journey Christmas Eve

Christmas was in the air Saturday in Rahns, Graterford, Spring Mount, Zieglerstown and Schwenksville as little boys and girls shouted greetings to Santa Claus who paraded there in a horse-drawn sleigh.

The roly-poly gentleman who left his reindeer at the North Pole to rest for the busy eve of Dec. 24, was pulled through the towns slowly by one sturdy steed.

W. Leon Gaugler, manager of H. B. Kratz hardware store, Schwenksville, where Santa is making his headquarters until Christmas Eve, estimated that more than 1000 children saw the northland visitor en route.

Making the tour of the townships, St Nick stopped many times to talk to children and hear their Christmas wishes. At the end of his jaunt through the Perkiomen valley at the H. B. Kratz store, there were several hundred children to see the jolly man in whiskers and red suit in person.

CHILDREN LINED up outside the store with their parents to see Santa Claus and whisper their lengthy toy lists into his ear. Gaugler said about 900 children spoke personally to Santa during the day.

Each child was given a toy or candy as he walked up to Santa. For the children who missed him Saturday, Santa said he will be waiting to see them between now and Christmas Eve.

Children Give Glad Welcome to Santa Claus

Little wide-eyed boys and girls were on hand at H. B. Kratz hardware store, Schwenksville, to greet Santa Claus Saturday morning when he made his official entrance to set up headquarters for the season. Santa made a tour of Rahns, Graterford, Spring Mount and Zieglerstown on his horse drawn sleigh, waving to hundreds of children on the way before he set up his post at the store. W. Leon Gaugler, manager of the H. B. Kratz store, said the ruler of the Northland balanced about 900 children on his knee during his first day's visit and distributed toys and candy to his tiny visitors.

Papal Nuncios to Get Red Hats From Leaders

VATICAN CITY, Dec. 7 (AP)—An ancient privilege enjoyed by the heads of only five nations will be revived next month for the first time in years. Papal Nuncios to France, Portugal and Spain, newly designated as Cardinals, will receive their red hats from the heads of their states.

Generalissimo Francisco Franco of Spain, President Vincent Auriol of France and President Gen. Francisco Higinio Craveiro Lopes of Portugal will present the Red Birettas to Mons. Gaetano Cicognani, Mons. Angelo Giuseppe Roncalli and Mons. Pietro Ciriaci, respectively. Only the rulers of those three states, plus Poland and old Austria-Hungary, had the privilege of placing the red hat on apostolic Nuncios in their countries when they were made Cardinals.

State Department Checks 'Secret Papers' Story

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7 (AP)—State department officials said today they were looking into reports that a veteran foreign service officer was carrying secret papers when he and his wife were arrested on intoxication charges early yesterday morning.

The two were taken into custody after the automobile in which they were riding collided with a telephone pole in adjacent Arlington county, Va. They were Foy David Kohler, 44, a member of the State Department's policy planning staff, and his wife, Mrs. Phyllis Kohler, 42.

Kohler, a former head of the department's Voice of America, was carrying a briefcase and police Pvt. Bernard Lunsford quoted him as saying it contained secret material.

28th Division Society Holds Meeting Here; 300 Are Present

There was a lot of handshaking by buddies who saw action together in France during World War I with the Pennsylvania 28th Division yesterday at the George A. Amole Post 47 American Legion home.

It was the annual meeting of the eastern district of the Society of the 28th Division.

Over 300 men and wives of Society members, many of them from Pottstown or formerly from the borough, met at the get-together.

Joseph "Hook" Zawaski, secretary of the Reading post of the organization and a former Pottsonian now living in Reading, was the speaker.

ZAWASKI SAID by forming a post in Pottstown the efforts of the Society of the 28th Division will have a greater effect since there are at least 500 former members of the division in that area.

Men from Pottstown who were present at the gathering were: Michael Vansh, 109 North Warren street; Wilhelm Wagner, 51 King street; Paul Stuffed, 1034 Queen street; Leon Gilbert, 678 Kern street; Anthony Spitziana, 431 High street; David Kessler, 19 South Kern street and William Reidenour, Pottstown RD 2.

Howard Davenport Claims Coatesville Bride

Howard Shaner Davenport, Pottstown, claimed as his bride Saturday Nancy Jane Manship, Coatesville, at an all-white ceremony.

Mr. Davenport is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Davenport, 1031 Bellevue avenue. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred B. Manship, Coatesville.

Officiating at the afternoon service in the Coatesville Presbyterian church was the Rev. Dr. C. Hans Evans, pastor.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride's gown of white satin and lace was simply fashioned. She wore a fingertip veil cascading from a cap of lace and satin.

On her arm, she carried a bridal bouquet of white gardenias.

Mrs. Edward Foody, Cresskill, N. J., a cousin of the bride, was matron of honor.

Her ballerina length gown of lace and net was white, and she carried a bouquet of green carnations. On her head, she wore a wreath of matching carnations.

Mrs. Robert C. Powell Jr., Springfield, Pa., a cousin of the groom; Mrs. Berwyn S. Detweiler Jr., Uniontown, Pa.; Mrs. Paul Watkins, Long Island, N. Y., and Mrs. Preston Layfield, Coatesville, were the bridesmaids.

Their white gowns were styled after the frock worn by the honor attendant, and their bouquets and headpieces were of red carnations.

Best man was Richard Gross, Pottstown.

Serving as ushers were John M. McCaslin, Pottstown; Robert C. Powell Jr., Springfield, Pa.; Charles Cushing, Pelham Manor, N. Y., and Lt. Horace Seidel, Annapolis, Md.

Church organist Marie Peace played a medley of nuptial music before the ceremony.

Coatesville Country club was the scene of the reception after the ceremony.

Later, the couple departed on their wedding trip to Bermuda. Upon their return, they will make their home in West Chester.

The bride is former society editor of the Coatesville Record.

The groom is an employee of the Pennsylvania Salt Manufacturing company.

'Too Cold'

Hand-cuffed Leo L. Stiles, one of 10 hardened convicts who escaped from Western Pennsylvania state penitentiary in Pittsburgh, glares into the news camera in state police barracks, Indiana, Pa., after he surrendered. He said he was "cold, hungry."

9 Fugitive Convicts Back Behind Bars

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 7 (AP) — Nine fugitive convicts were back behind bars today, just a week after their escape from Western State penitentiary in Pittsburgh.

The last of the nine, Andrew L. White, 31, serving 17 to 35 years for felonious assault and robbery, was overhauled yesterday at the home of a relative in Sealston, Va. He was not armed.

Two 42-year-old burglars, Virgil Toney and Nick Derembis, were picked up Friday for trespassing on Western Maryland railroad property at Baltimore.

Like the six captured earlier in the week, White, Toney and Derembis, though described as dangerous, offered no resistance when overtaken by the law.

The six were Clayton Terhune, Ralph Mastermonico, Carmac McNelis, Leo L. Stiles, James Milk and Melvin Loveland.

French Communist Party Strips 2 of Functions

PARIS, Dec. 7 (AP) — The French Communist party Central committee today stripped Andre Marty and Charles Tillon of all functions in the party, and prepared to expel Marty from the organization.

Both Marty and Tillon, long prominent in French Communism, were removed from the Politburo, recently but were retained on the Central committee pending some self-criticism.

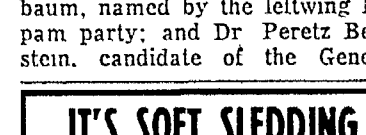

Neither, however, came through as expected. Marty, stormy veteran of riot and revolt, even answered back with a pair of open letters, Nov. 2 and Dec. 2, denying charges of deviationism.

Ben-Zvi Appears Leading Candidates in Israel

JERUSALEM, Dec. 7 (AP) — Isaac Ben-Zvi, 68-year-old Labor party leader, appeared today to be the leading candidate for president of Israel to fill the mantle of the late Dr. Chaim Weizmann. The 120 members of the Knesset (parliament) meet for the vote tomorrow.

Ben-Zvi, nominated by Premier David Ben-Gurion's Mapai (Labor) party, is opposed by three other candidates: Rabbi Mordecai Nurok, minister of posts and telegraphs in the present coalition Government who was nominated by the powerful religious bloc; Dr. Itzhak Gruenbaum, named by the leftwing Mapam party; and Dr. Perez Bernstein, candidate of the General

More Policewomen Applicants Needed

stationed at eight intersections that are used by school children and that are regarded by the police committee as dangerous.

In guarding school children going to and from schools, the policewomen would be on duty four times a day, for a total of two hours. They would earn $1 an hour. Strange said he hoped to have policewomen on duty by Jan. 5, when school will reopen after the Christmas holidays. The ten appearing Saturday were asked to return their filled out applications early next week.

The women appearing Saturday were given a summary by Strange of their duties. He noted that they would not be under Civil Service or Social Security and would not be eligible for the police pension fund.

Uniforms will be supplied, he mentioned. "We thought we would like to have them (successful applicants) all dressed alike," he told the women. "It makes a better appearance and gets more respect from motorists and pedestrians than when there are 15 different colors and kinds of coats being worn."

THE POLICEMEN would not be responsible for anything else than protecting the crossings, he said. The policewomen will be given pads and pencils with which to report license numbers of motorists disobeying their instructions.

He emphasized the reason for hiring policewomen was to free regular policemen from the job and make them available for other work.

One of the applicants, Mrs. Pierce K. Grimley, 1210 Queen street, has two grandchildren, one of Junior High school age.

She said she applied to help protect children.

"I like to think of him (the grandchild in Junior High) as safely getting there and getting back," she said. "As I'm doing my breakfast dishes, I see many children running along in the streets and playing in the curbs. With more protection, they wouldn't do this. I think it would make mothers feel a lot better."

Two younger applicants, Mrs. Pearl Gamm, 1121 Sembling avenue, and Mrs. Minerva Bachman, 21 North Penn street, gave similar reasons.

Mrs. Grimm said she had read of the plan being tried successfully elsewhere. Mrs. Bachman said she felt that in addition to helping the children, volunteering as policewomen would help the police force and its shortage of men.

William Palladino Elected Commander Of Catholic War Vets

William Palladino was elected commander of the Catholic War Veterans of Pottstown, Post 1683, during a meeting in St. Aloysius school last night at which the group formally received its charter.

Presentation of the charter was made by Harry Bautzer of Reading, State second vice-commander.

Palladino was elected in the annual polling which was conducted by Vladimir Sikora, commander of the Eighth district.

The meeting also viewed motion pictures of the 1952 State convention presented by the organization's State historian, Gus Dimino. The Rev. George Hiller, assistant rector of St. Aloysius Catholic church, spoke on the ideals encouraged by the Catholic War Veterans.

IN ADDITION to Palladino the following officers were named.

First vice-commander, Bruce Lessig; second vice-commander, Sylvester Peterka; third vice-commander, Anthony Bodzioch, treasurer, James O'Connor; welfare officer, John Hospador, historian, John Chihy; officer of the day, Edward Kramer; trustees, Hugh Kelly, Joseph Sioka and John Kubak, and adjutant, Francis Koren.

The group has set Jan. 4 as the next meeting date.

CREDIT UNION —

L. Wade reported the union voted $50 to Post-780, Veterans of Foreign Wars, to help conduct the post's program to hand out cigarettes to Pottstown's departing draftees.

Wade reported a "good" attendance by members of the night shift who requested the Sunday meeting. He added the membership discussed a plan by the State CIO council to advocate an FEPC law.

The State council is expected to begin a campaign for legislative action in the Fall of 1953. Local 2177 expects to continue discussion on the issue at the next meeting, which is tentatively scheduled for Jan. 5.

Officers Probe Reports Of Mysterious Plane

TAHOE CITY, Calif., Dec. 7 (AP) — Officers today investigated weird reports that an airplane early to day circled Tahoe City for hours during a heavy blizzard, dropped several flares and finally produced a big explosion.

Four persons who said they saw or heard these things expressed the belief that the plane crashed nearby. However, no commercial or military plane was missing in this area so far as could be determined here.

But Constable Harry Johanson said he would organize a tractor-equipped posse to investigate.

Quarrel Is Patched Up in Iran Party

TEHRAN, Iran, Dec. 7 (AP) — A quarrel among leaders of Premier Mohammed Mossadegh's national front party appeared to have been patched up today as legislators met for their first open session in 12 days and passed a harmony resolution.

The Malis (lower house of Parliament) unanimously voted an expression of regret for the criticism four members aimed at the Mossadegh regime in the Nov. 25 session. Cabinet members considered the criticism so insulting they have been staying away from Majlis sessions in protest.

Much of the resentment had centered around a speech made by Labor leader Muzaffar Baghaie—usually a staunch national front supporter. He implied that the government was proceeding with intentional slowness in punishing those responsible for the July 27 riots and in compensating the victims.

OFFICIALS ESTIMATE

STUEBENVILLE, O., Dec. 7 (AP) — Plant officials estimated a $25,000 loss from a fire yesterday which gutted the electrical shop of the Wheeling Steel corporation plant here. Firemen said a welder's after the Republicans take over the Government next month.

Moroccan Labor Strikes In Sympathy With Tunis

CASABLANCA, French Morocco, Dec. 7 (AP) — The Moroccan General Labor confederation (CGT) today called a nationwide general strike as a demonstration of sympathy with Tunisian nationalists. The strike call here coincided with new outbreaks of violence in both protectorates where nationalists groups are seeking independence from the French.

The CGT termed the walkout a protest against the unexplained assassination the past Friday of Farhat Hached, leader of the Tunisian independence movement and general secretary of the Tunisian Workers Movement (UGT).

The UGT had already called a three-day general strike in Tunisia. Reports from there said it is only partially effective.

Boyerstown Junior Woman's Club Calls Holiday Ball 'Huge Success'

With the Second Annual Holiday ball now only a memory, the sponsoring Junior Woman's club is now looking forward to next year's ball and the crowning of a queen for 1953.

Members of the club have described the affair as a "huge success," and predict that the 1953 ball will be even bigger.

Antoinette Walters, representing the Keystone Fire company, Boyertown, the 1952 Queen of the Holiday Ball was crowned in a net over taffeta cottillion blue with matching stole over a strapless bodice. Rhinestones were sprinkled across the front of the bodice. The ballerina length skirt, gathered at the waist, fell into many tiers.

In addition to the rhinestone tiara with which she was crowned she received two pieces of matched luggage, a US Savings bond and umbrella. Gifts of jewelry, blouse, dress material, a dress scarf and tea set were donated from various stores in New York, Philadelphia and this area.

Gifts for the other five girls included bracelets engraved with "Holiday Ball 1952," sweaters and shaded pagoda umbrella.

THREE CROWNS PLAY JACOBS IN 1ST GAME

Some of this area's top amateur players will start their basketball season tonight at the Junior High school when the City Basketball league holds its first doubleheader.

Last season's champs, Three Crowns, will engage Jacobs in the 7 o'clock opener, and Flagg and Doehler will meet in the 8:15 o'clock nightcap.

The seven-team circuit will play its games each Monday and Thursday nights.

Danny Ludwig, playing coach of Three Crowns, announced his tentative starting lineup last night. On the floor at tapoff time will probably be Andy Krickzy, Tom Pollick, Claude Reinhardt, Stan Stolar and Ludwig. In reserve he will have Bub DeTurk, Jack Baird, Gene Eeck and Pud Rath, if the West Chester State Teachers footballer is available.

BILL BINCZAK has a big squad to choose from but his probable starters are Stan Swenk, Sam Schuman, Bob Kirby, Pete Peterman, Rod Cannel and Binczak.

On the bench for relief duty he will have Bob Weekley, Dave Seasholtz, Bob Fryer, Charles Barndt, Bill Boyer and Jim Thaxter.

Flag manager Harry Penrose was undecided on his opening five but on his squad he will have the Millard Trio, Bob, Lou and Bud, the two Baros, Jesse and Tony, Dick Edwards, Larry Eddinger, Shorty Herman and Jim Mull.

The turnout for the Doehler squad has been large and manager John Lindemuth plans to wait until game time to name his floor lineup. Chuck Klaus will captain the team. His mates will be Howie Nuding, John Hillegas, F. Dennis, Don Tynon, Don McAfee and five or six others who will be retained by Lindemuth.

Y Seniors Lose Opener, 86-79, In Philadelphia

After holding a three-point lead at halftime, the locals fell behind in the third quarter and finally lost to the Christian Street Y, 86-79.

The Cincinnati Red team is 194 made in both 1928 and 1931.

Dick Ricketts started the season off in a big way Saturday night by scoring 25 points in Duquesne's 72-47 win over Geneva in the Dukes opener. The former Trojan bucketed 10 field goals and five fouls from his forward position and did a big portion of his team's rebounding. The Dukes play St. Francis (Pa.) at home tonight.

Major Leagues Adopt 2-Loop Waiver Rule in "Stop the Yankees" Move

PHOENIX, Ariz., Dec. 7 (AP)—The major leagues adopted a rule requiring two league waivers after the June 15 trading deadline today and backed up the hard-pressed minors by adopting the bonus rule and banning the 24-hour recall of optioned players.

Meeting in joint session under Commissioner Ford Frick for about an hour and a half, the baseball clubs finished their week-long session and headed home.

George Trautman, head of the minor leagues, called the majors' action "very helpful and stimulating to the minors" and Commissioner Frick said "in the best interests of the public."

The minors also got a promise of more help when the majors voted to set up a committee to work with the minors on the proposal to pool "outside" radio and television receipts into a trust fund to help "damaged" minor league clubs.

Probably the most important legislation as far as the fans are concerned was the new rule on waivers that will not permit the kind of deals the New York Yankees have been making with National league clubs in recent years. Some even called it a "stop the Yankees" move.

LAST AUGUST the Yanks acquired lanky Ewell Blackwell from Cincinnati for $30,000 and three players, about two months after the trading deadline. They did it

Ernie Leads Schwenksville In Big 9 Win

Schwenksville opened its Big Nine action Friday night with a decisive 60-45 victory over Collegeville. The Colts closed with a rush of 20 points in the last period but the winners still held a big lead.

Elroy Ernie helped Schwenksville to the easy win by tabbing 23 points, all in the first three periods. At the end of that time, the winners had a 30 point advantage.

Harry Long, 12, and Joe High, 11, played supporting roles to Ernie. Only John Howard could reach double digits for Collegeville. He had 10, and Don Hefelfinger had nine.

In the jayvee game, Schwenksville won, 45-31.

College Basketball Steps in Before Football Dies Away

NEW YORK, Dec. 7 (AP)—With the college football season only a few hours to go, college basketball's season broke out like a blizzard all over the country last night.

Although most conferences races were not due to open until this week, many of the country's highly-regarded fives were in the at least 212 games and one of them, Indiana, came a cropper with a 71-70 defeat from Notre Dame.

Kansas State, regarded in many pre-season polls as the likely successor to Kansas as Big Seven champion and possibly Kansas' successor as NCAA champion, had to go into overtime to down Drake, 79-73.

LaSalle's National Invitation tourney champions won their second straight by outrunning Niagara 87-76, to defend their November ranking as an Eastern power, and North Carolina State, long-time scourge of the Southern conference, rolled to its third straight with an 82-47 hiding of Davidson.

On the Pacific Coast, favored UCLA and Washington won, UCLA trouncing Oregon State, 58-43, and Washington clouting Utah, 77-56.

LaSalle, with Fred Ichle getting 27 points and 6-6 Tom Gola 26, hit on 36 of 88 field goal attempts for a fine 41.9 percent average. And Niagara even topped that with 29 of 66 for 43.9 percent!

Michigan salvaged some glory for the Big 10 by rallying from a 54-62 third quarter deficit for an 85-78 triumph over Pitt, and Michigan State became the third conference team to beat Marquette this week with a 62-51 victory. Minnesota's giants worked their zone defense far too effectively for Bradley and gained a 79-63 victory, while Ohio State scored an 81-71 triumph over St. Louis' young team.

Those scores were high, but not the highest of the night. Salem defeated Mountain State (W. Va.), 108-68, and Duke scored 86 points in dropping a 91-86 verdict to Wake Forest.

In contrast, Williams defeated Union, 53-30—or less points by both teams than Duke made in losing!

New York university ran up a 10-0 lead and scored an easy 80-71 victory over Boston College in the second game of the first Madison Square Garden doubleheader of the season. Hal Weitz hit on nine long shots to tie Boris Nachamkin for scoring honors with 18 points. Tona upset Siena, 68-58, in the first game behind the 25-point scoring of Dick Guerini.

Alumni Edges Warwick High

Bob Bedi led the Warwick Alumni to a 68-67 win over Warwick High Friday night in the Patriots gym, tallying 30 points.

His burst, largely in the last two stanzas, paced the late starting grads to a 45 point second half output. After counting only four points in the second period, the Alumni trailed, 36-22, at the half. Bill Baver's 18 was next high for the victors, while Fred Painter (20), Carl Horner (18) and Dick Wells (14) paced the undergraduate quint.

Extension Ordered On Fowl Hunting

HARRISBURG, Dec. 7 (AP)—The State Game commission today ordered a six day special extension of the open hunting season on certain species of wild waterfowl. The extension, for ducks, geese, American and red-breasted mergansers and coots, was allowed to make up for the late beginning of the regular season. A state-wide ban on all hunting was issued early last month because of drought conditions.

Hunting will be allowed Dec. 15-20 inclusive. The regular waterfowl season ends Dec. 13, at the same time the (Buck) deer season closes.

Hill Wins Second Over Ursinus Frosh, 56-53; Wilson High

Coach Perry Bowden sweated through another close victory Saturday afternoon as his Hill school quintet won its second game of the season, 56-53, over Ursinus Freshmen.

In their only other outing, the Hillers edged Reading Central Catholic, 55-53. The Ursinus lower classmen were playing for the first time and for three quarters, and more, it appeared that they were going to have a winning inaugural.

Andy Wilson's rapid-fire scoring in the first half kept The Hill on even terms with the visitors and at the intermission the count was knotted, 28-28.

Ursinus broke fast in the third quarter and manufactured a seven-point lead about half way through the period. Bowden's boys reversed the scoring procedure at this point and an closed the gap to a neutral 43-all situation as the final period began.

Fred Hamilton and John Phillips were aggressive Hill defenders and their pressing tactics stalled the Freshmen's attack. The Blue edged slowly ahead and held the three-point margin at the end.

WILSON TOPPED the scorers with 21 points. Jim Radcliffe slackened off considerably from his 35-point showing against Reading CC, but came through with 12 important points.

Paul Neborak and John Brown paced the losers each with a dozen points.

The game was surprisingly free of fouling with Ursinus cashing in on 13, one more than The Hill. It was from the floor that the Hillers won, collecting 22 field goals to Ursinus' 20.

Bowden's crew will now have a long layoff of about five weeks. They return to action against PMC Prep, Jan. 14.

Browns Clinch Tie for Playoff Spot

Eagles in 2d Place With 38-21 Win Over Dallas Texans

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 7 (AP)—Big Harry (Bud) Grant caught 11 passes for 203 yards and two touchdowns to lead the Philadelphia Eagles to an easy 38-21 victory today over the fabled Dallas Texans.

The Eagles' seventh victory against the four defeats carried them into second place and kept alive their title hopes in the American conference of the National Football league.

Philadelphia concludes its regular season next week against Washington and must win while Cleveland loses to the New York Giants to gain a tie for the conference crown.

Should the race end in a tie between Cleveland and Philadelphia, the playoff game would take place in Philadelphia Dec. 21.

A crowd of 18,376 sat in on the sloppy, penalty-ridden game that at times produced football described only as weird.

The entertainment included a touchdown by tackle Vic Sears, the first for the one-time Oregon university luminary in his 12 years of pro grid play.

The game produced eight fumbles, seven of which were recovered by the defensive team, and 18 penalties for 165 yards. At times, it looked like a walking marathon for the checker shirted officials.

The Eagles started the home-less-Texans to their 10th defeat in 11 games this year the first time the winners got their hands on the ball. It took seven plays to go 41 yards to the Dallas end zone with Johnny Huzvar, a battering ram type full back lugging over from the five. Bob Walston converted the first of his four extra points and the Eagles were away winging to a 7-0 lead.

A FEW MINUTES later, the Eagles were in the scoring column again, this time moving 70 yards on four plays with Bobby Thomas passing 41 yards to Grant for the touchdown. The Eagles' end, who made himself a reputation at Minnesota as a basketball player, shattered Pete Pihos' five-year-old seasonal pass receiving record. Grant has gained 941 yards on 52 receptions in 1952, eclipsing Pihos' old Eagles mark of 766 yards in 1948.

Dallas 0 7 0 14-21
Philadelphia 17 7 14 0-38

Dallas scoring: Touchdowns—Young, Williams, Wilkins. Conversions—Cannamela 3.

Philadelphia scoring: Touchdowns—Huzvar, Grant 2, Van Buren, Sears, Conversions—Walston, 5. Field goals—Walston.

Graduation has riddled the ranks of most of last year's kingpins while many of the runners-up are stronger.

Farrell, the PIAA Class A state champion, lost its All-State hook shot artist Julius McCoy and five of the seven regulars that lost but one in 30 games. Only two of last year's "seven dwarfs are back, one candidate has had no experience and the others are Sophomores up from the Junior High team.

However, the revamped Steelers opened up Friday night with a 50-25 decision over Warren, Ohio, a neighboring rival which may not be in the class with the strong WPIAL competition coming up soon.

Avalon, the PIAA Class B is in the same position. Coach Harry Dennison has only one letterman back from last year's unbeaten squad.

Avalon was dropped by Mt. Lebanon in its opener last week, 48-44.

COATESVILLE, the Eastern Class A champion, is better fortified for the battle ahead. Coach Wally Funk has standouts Jimmy Lopp and Rod Perry back for the nucleus of another title contender.

The Raiders opened with two victories last week including a 66-57 victory over Radnor, a perennial District 1 contender. Coatesville warmed up earlier in the week with a 55-47 verdict over Lebanon Catholic.

Kutztown, the Class B Eastern champion, started out on the wrong foot also by losing a 58-44 decision to strong Pottstown, a Class A school.

Meadville, the Class A District 10 champion, has opened strong with a Friday night 70-62 decision over Erie Tech, usually a North-western power.

Old Forge Wins Eastern Crown

SCRANTON, Dec. 7 (AP)—Joe Slopyak plunged across from the two-yard line to give Old Forge High school a 6-0 victory over Sunbury Saturday and their first Eastern conference football championship.

The lone score came midway in the first period after a Sunbury pass was intercepted by Bob Pippi. The Blue Devils unleashed a passing attack that carried them to the Sunbury five-yard line. Two plays later Slopyak plunged over for the score.

A crowd of 5500 watched the game.

LIONS, RAMS DEADLOCKED IN NATIONAL DIVISION

NEW YORK, Dec. 7 (AP)—The Cleveland Browns clinched at least a tie for the American conference title and the Detroit Lions and Los Angeles Rams remained deadlocked for first place in the National division of the National Football league today.

The Browns, a playoff finalist every year since the organization of the defunct All-America conference in 1946, defeated the Chicago Cardinals 10-0 to move within one victory of the divisional crown.

They need only to win or a tie against the New York Giants' in next Sunday's season's finale to move into the league playoff. The playoff is scheduled for Dec. 21 but will be moved back a week if either of the divisions end in a tie.

A defeat of the Philadelphia Eagles by the Washington Redskins also will give the Browns the title. But the Eagles today kept their hopes alive by trimming the Dallas Texans 38-21.

Lou Groza completed the scoring in the third period with a 12-yard field goal.

Little Eddie Le Baron and Hugh Taylor chiefly were responsible for the Redskins' triumph after the Giants had built up a 10-0 lead before 21,237.

Le Baron completed 13 of 20 passes for 260 yards. Three of them went to Taylor on touchdown plays that covered 66, 50 and 28 yards. He also pitched 14 yards to Johnny Papit for the fourth TD.

The longest scoring play, however, was a 73-yard pass from Kyle Rote to Bob McChesney to put the Giants back in the ball game in the third period.

The Lions also took to the air for their triumph over the Bears. End Cloyce Box caught two over-the-shoulder passes from Bobby Layne within a 96-second span early in the first period and the Lions never were headed.

The crowd of 50,410, which bulged Briggs Stadium in 48-degree weather, saw Box also take a third pass from Layne in the second period to give the Lions a 21-14 half-time margin.

Veteran Bob Waterfield, who says he is playing his last season, was the key man in the Rams' rout of the Packers before 49,822 fans. His 19-yard run sent the league champions into a lead they never relinquished. He pitched 56 yards to Elroy Hirsch and 25 to Paul Barry for another six-pointer, kicked a 42-yard field goal and added six extra points.

The Lions held first place in the National conference for a few hours by downing the Chicago Bears, 45-21. Then the Rams moved right up with them by turning back Green Bay 55-27 at Los Angeles. And Pittsburgh's surging Steelers ruined San Francisco's hopes with a 24-7 conquest.

The Browns-Cardinals game at Chicago's Comiskey Park, witnessed by 24,541, was marred by fumbles and pass interceptions but the Cards never could get closer to the goal line than Cleveland's 26.

CLEVELAND went ahead on the third play of the game when Otto Graham shot a long pass down the middle to Dub Jones, who grabbed the ball behind the Cardinal secondary for a 56-yard scoring play.

The Steelers, who rolled up a 63-7 score on New York last week, kept right on going against the 49ers. Jim Finks, passing set up the first and third touchdowns, the last of which the Pittsburgh quarterback scored himself. In between Gary Kerkorian kicked a 19-yard field goal and Lynn Chandrois raced 50 yards for TD after taking a screen pass from Finks.

Carter Boxes Whitewater Tuesday

NEW YORK, Dec. 7 (AP)—One reigning champion, a former champion and a host of would-be champions feature a lively boxing program with a truly international flavor this week.

The titleholder in action is lightweight Jimmy Carter of New York, who meets Archie Whitewater of Oakland in a non-title over-the-weight 10 in the California City Tuesday night.

Lauro Salas of Monterey, Mexico, who first won the title from Carter and then lost it in a rematch, will be in action Monday night against Tommy Collins, the current pride of Boston. Their 10-rounder has been sold out for several days. Salas is one of an even dozen foreign fighters fighting in (NBC) bout from Madison Square main bouts around the country this week.

Brooklyn's Johnny Saxton, whose fast-moving fists have earned him 33 straight victories, faces Raoul Perez of Cuba, a seasoned veteran who has won seven of 10 American fights, in Friday night's telecast (NBC) bout from Madison Square Garden, New York.

Los Angeles held a 17-14 margin at the half but broke out with a scoring barrage that produced 21 points in the third quarter and seven in the final chapter. The victory was the seventh straight for the Rams.

The Steelers, who rolled up a 63-7 score on New York last week, kept right on going against the 49ers. Looks Like a Butcher Shop

These seven bucks are the results of a six-day hunt by a ten-man party above Renova, Clinton county. Pointing to a five-pointer he got is Warren Kulp, Perkiomenville RD. Other sharpshooters who came home with the venison yesterday are William Atwell, Ziegler'sville; Donald Hawthorne, 516 Chestnut street; Robert Sherman, Race street, Stowe; Herman Levensgood, 834 Glasgow street, Stowe; Julius Ziletti, Ziegler'sville, and James Weir, Goldsboro, Md. Losers in the hunt were Henry Landis, Schwenksville RD; Frank Hawthorne, Lansdale, and Harry Hawthorne, Frederick.

and weighing approximately one-half ton.

Warren Kulp, Perkiomenville, in whose garage the venison has been stored, nailed a five-point buck. William Atwell, Ziegler'sville (no relation to the Philadelphia Phils catcher of the 1930s) shot a four-pointer and Donald Hawthorne, 16 Chestnut street, bagged a seven-pointer.

Robert Sherman, Race street, Stowe, stopped an eight-point buck and Herman Levensgood, 834 Glasgow street, was good for a four-point kill.

Julius J. Ziletti, Ziegler'sville, dropped a 5-pointer and James Weir, Goldsboro, Md., joined Sherman's company with an 8-point buck.

The deer, all killed in Clinton county, near Renova, average about 150 pounds each. Unsuccessful hunters in the party were Henry Landis, Schwenksville RD 1; Frank Hawthorne, Lansdale, and Harry Hawthorne, Frederick.

ROBERT KELLER, 419 Center street, Stowe, had beginner's luck when he bagged a 9-point, 170-pound buck in Northumberland county the past week.

It was the deer hunter's first season. Three veteran deer hunters along on the party failed to even see another buck.

Earl "Bud" Miller, Grosstown road, Stowe; Herbert Miller,

North Manatwiny street; and Melvin Egolf, East Vine street, Stowe, the three hunters who were showing Keller "the ropes" saw nothing but doe.

Another beginner on the hunting trip was Frank Bregovi, Lemon street, Stowe. While Keller had beginner's luck, Bregovi had the opposite.

The beginning deer hunter, who has not yet claimed a trophy, sprained his ankle helping Keller drag his buck back to camp. Keller almost received injury from the deer he had shot while dragging it down a mountain slope. As if with revenge, the buck skidded swiftly down the slope, knocking Keller head over heels.

"It was well worth the spill," Keller remarked proudly.

Long-Range Transport Unveiled by Lockheed

BURBANK, Calif., Dec. 7 (AP) — Lockheed Aircraft corporation today unveiled what is described as "the fastest and longest-ranged transport airplane ever built in America—and the most elegant."

Lockheed said the new airliner, an advanced version of the super Constellation, will have turbo-compound engines—a piston type with auxiliary exhaust turbine—20 percent more powerful than those now in use.

The company said in a news release that this would provide a cruising speed of 350 miles an hour and a top speed approaching 400.

In the first seven months of 1952, 27,000 Britons migrated to Canada.
